Good Evening Families,

I just wanted to pass along a couple of additional resources this evening along with some answers to the questions that were submitted via the Google Form last night. Additionally, I've included some final reminders as we near our first day of school this Thursday, July 30!

New Video and Resource:

This evening, I taped a new video for you to review that provides a step-by-step guide to understanding and preparing students for their daily/weekly schedule as well as the steps that each student will take as they begin virtual learning. The video can be found on the Youtube Playlist that was shared yesterday (CLICK HERE). Additionally, attached is a Schedule Template for students to utilize in helping to keep themselves organized each day for digital learning.

Powerpoints From Videos #1 - #5

Below you will find links to each of the Powerpoints that were used in Video #1 - Video #5.

Parent Questions:

Below are the questions and responses to submitted parent questions yesterday evening. If you have additional questions, please click HERE:

- Are Macs compatible with Canvas?
  - While programs run differently on different computers, Macs are compatible with Canvas. All staff members actually use Macs, so most if not all material should be compatible with Mac. That being said, all students are still able to pick up a Chromebook if they choose to do so.
- If I have a computer at home do I need to get a Chromebook?
  - No. Students are not required to get a Chromebook if they have access at home.
- Where will the links be located for Zoom meetings for teachers to take attendance?
  - On each course's Canvas Page, teachers will have a link that is listed for students to join live instruction. For some teachers, this link will be a single link that they always use. Other teachers elect to use a new link for each course as they like to schedule through Zoom's application. Regardless, students should ALWAYS start on Canvas for each class period and follow the instructions provided for each class.
- What will students be doing in beginning orchestra/band since they won't have instruments?
  - Students will be focused on general music education and theory primarily. Students will spend time reviewing instruments, beats/rhythms and a variety of other music concepts.
- How will bathroom breaks work?
  - Students will be able to use the restroom if they need to during class without asking for permission. We expect students to use their best judgement as to their needs while at home.

Material Pickup Tomorrow

This is one final reminder that material pick-up will be this Wednesday (Tomorrow) between 12:00pm - 6:00pm. Students who already have access to a Chromebook and do not need an instrument or hard copy of their schedule DO NOT need to attend. More information can be found by reviewing the details in July 24th's parent communication which can be found by clicking HERE.

Thanks for your continued support and remember that, "Today, like every day, is a great day to be a Falcon!"

Respectfully,

Steven Pelych
